This volume is hereby dedicated to His Excellency FRANCIS D. GLEESON, S.J., D.D., BISHOP OF ALASKA. This prince of the Church carries with him the sincere congratulations and warmest greetings of the Student Body of Marquette High School. We dedicate this volume to a very noble alumnus. Bishop Gleeson utilizes even today the valuable experiences attained in high school, and since we also share in the same training we share as well in the glory of our alumni. This man has attained a high position in the most noble institution on earth. No higher goal can be sought than to be considered noble in the Mystical Body Christ, His spouse on earth.

We the students of Marquette extend our deepest thanks to REV. PAUL CORKERY, S.J., our superior during the entire spon of our high school education. To this man we owe a debt of gratitude for the work he has done in the molding of our lives and personalities during our adolescence.

To FATHER NIXON, S.J., the Student Body of 1948 extends its greetings and welcome as new superior. Fr. Nixon is not new to us as he has been on the faculty since the sophomore year of the graduates. For the rest he represents a permanent member of the faculty. Good luck to carry on the work of an ambitious predecessor.

Debating got off to a slow start this year, but increased in tempo as the year went on. The first real work began with Seattle College in December where Ashmun Brown placed first in Extempore and Impromptu. Ted Regimbal did well in orotory, but failed to take any honors. Loter in February, the Marlocs went to Gonzaga University where they placed first in University Style to become the Northwest Prep Debate Champions; Brown won a scholarship; Cockrill was second, Beberness went to the finals in Dramatic Reading.

The schedule slackened off a bit, but the debators come back strong to win the Yakima Valley Tournament. With this under their belts, the Marlocs went to College of Pudget Sound in March, taking as many as possible. Here Moreland won the Lincoln-Douglas Style with nine straight wins. All other teams went to the quarter and semi-finals. The season was climaxed with the Washington State Contest at Pullman. Here Cockrill won a $50 a month Scholarship at W. S. C. for one semester.

Throughout the season, the Marlocs had many speaking opportunities before various clubs throughout the Valley; practice debates with other schools and the contests in the school itself.

This year a charter was granted to the Marlocs by the National Forensic League, for high school debaters.

Mask & Mike

This year for the first time a dramatics club was formed at Marquette under the name of the "Mask and Mike Club." Two one-act plays were given in the fall to an appreciative audience.

Plans were made for a three-act spring play, but had to be omitted because of a successful debate season that took up the time of both the members and Mr. O'Connell who has charge of both activities. A great deal of interest has been aroused in dramatics and it is therefore assumed that Marquette shall in the future foster a very prominent club whose task is to develop the dramatic ability of the students.
